

SELF LOVE

In the wind we ponder
What else is there to remember
But theres so much to consider
So much in wonder
We try to put asunder
We think we can crack the thunder
Cracking of another life under
But deep down we sober
Cause its hard to make proper
We strive to work harder
Thinking we can make it better
Forgetting it's not a single day's agenda
Discovering you in whatever
Loving you in however
No matter the up-heavers
It will all be leftovers
Cause nothing last forever
Developing self love
Is one way making more
Of a better person as a whole
To prevent causing world holes
Self love, for a better world
